

The Nuclear Family

Parental Rights

Parents are the God-ordained authority in the family. The government does not have the right to over-rule or undermine the authority of the parent.

Education

There are more than 5 times as many children being home-schooled in Qld today than there was 10 years ago. More and more families are growing disillusioned with the mainstream schools and instead choosing to home-school. Private schools are also growing steadily as well, as parents are increasingly choosing to stay away from public school system. Parents need to be in-charge of determining the way their children are educated and what they are being taught.

If I am elected to Parliament, I will be introducing legislation that will insure, that parents are given the freedom to educate their children in accordance with their own values and beliefs without unnecessary interference from the government.

Gender Transition for Minors

Gender transition regret is becoming a major phenomenon, and many of the now adults who are experiencing this regret, were minors at the time they transitioned, and in many cases did so without their parent's knowledge, and/or against their parent's wishes.

If I am elected to Parliament, I will be introducing legislation that will require written permission from both parents (or all legal guardians), before any gender transition treatment can be given to a child under the age of 18.
